EDITOR'S DESK

I know you all appreciate Gwen's work on The Quarterly the past two years. She is going to be a hard act to follow, and I am counting on all of you for help. Please keep contributing items, such as documented original research, courthouse records of which you have copies, and any genealogical material that is not copyrighted. Don't forget to take advantage of the free Query Section. When you publish a book, send me a copy for review. The book will then be donated to Dallas Public Library.

Gwen worked especially hard on our 25th Anniversary Edition, and I thought you would like to see the following review, which appeared in Volume 27, Number 1, Ansearchin' News:

""HHE QUARTERLY, Dallas Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 12648, Dallas, Texas 75225. 510.00 per year, published March, Junc, September, and December. Volume XXV, Number 4 is their 25th anniversary edition and is an excellent publication containing a Dallas County directory 1881-1882 with individuals listed according to occupation; Baird family records; a record of the transfer and sale of cattle beginning in 1867 and listing the names of people involved. It also includes Oak Cliff Cemetery burials; Inventory Book A of Dallas County 1847-1852; a continuation of marriages in Dallas County in the 1880's; queries, etc., as well as an index of surnames at the back of the book."

BOBBIE F. THORNTON Vice President - Publications

PAST PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Per by-laws requirements, this report is submitted using figures as of the end of June, 1980.

- Our membership stands in excess of 500 persons.
- 2. Our bank balance is in excess of $5,000.00.
- 3. Publications projects status is as follows:
 - a. Volume 1 of Dallas County Cemeteries is nearing completion as typing and proofreading continue.
 - b. Volume 2 of Dallas County Marriages should be ready for typing by the end of this summer. The copying of these marriages is in the final stages.
 - c. Volume 2 of DGS Ancestors lacks 10 charts of being ready to prepare for publication.
 - d. 25th Anniversary edition of Quarterly devoted to materials on Dallas County was well received.
- 4. Dallas County Cemetery Project, initially to copy abandoned cemeteries, has been expanded to include all Dallas County Cemeteries. Of the 130 cemeteries identified thus far, 100 have been searched. Those remaining to be searched include perpetual care title modes of transportation to access them.
- 5. Revolutionary War microfilms fund raising project has generated $3,127.61.
- DGS Annual Workshop was well attended and generated revenues in excess of $1,500.00, which included fees for attendees and publications sold at workshop.
- 7. The committee called to investigate seating capacity for the genealogy section at the new Dallas Public Library presently under construction met with Mr. Richard Waters (representing Dallas Public Library) and Mr. Don cleveland (Assistant City Manager) to more spacesaming genealogy section's seating capacity. They agreed to allot us 12 more spaces.
- Changes in the by-laws were voted on and passed. Nominating committee to meet in Pebruary instead of April. Duties of Newsletter Editor clarified. (Shall function autonomously).
- DGS members voted to dispense with reading of minutes and treasurer's report at general meetings with exception of June meeting as required by by-laws. Committee of five (5) appointed to read these reports before meetings.
- 10. $500 donated by DGS to genealogy section of Dallas Public Library from funds generated by annual workshop.
- 11. Residents of Dallas County, including many DCS members, donated books and materials to Dallas Public Library genealogy section. The value of these materials (including memorials from DCS for deceased members and book review volumes donated by DGS) were valued in excess of $12,000.00 over the past two years.
- 12. Indexing of all persons listed in reel number 1 of Dallas County Probate Records microfilm has been completed. Publication to be at a later date.
- 13. All Dallas County History books have been sold. No reprint plans.
- 14. $724.00 worth of Dallas County Probate Records microfilms sold this year.
- 15. Pre-meeting basic genealogy sessions have been well attended and enthusiastically received, thus fulfilling a longtime wish of this president that the genealogy needs of our community might be met.

This report submitted with much appreciation to all of those faithful DGS workers whose generosity with time and materials and talents made this 25th Anniversary year a good one.

Handy Guide to Italian Genealogical Records Preece, F.

Beginning genealogists (and some experienced ones) tend to overlook the value of deed records. Your Editor was recently in a courthouse in Tennessee, and the marriage records for some years were missing, but a search of the deed index yielded the following marriage contract, which is recorded in Deed Book M, pages 437-438. I include it so that our beginners may see an example of what can be found in the deed records. And for those of you who are not beginners, it is a very interesting document.

Mariage Contract) State of Tennessee Hardin County Between Mariage Contract Between William Rhay of the first part and William Rhay & Anna Barnett of the Second part

Anna Barnett This Indenture in part made this the 5th day of June A. D. 1860 between William Rhay of the first part and Anna Barnett of the Second part and J. M. Cunningham and M. V. R. CORNING LETTERS

Miss Clara Corning 1108 Locust Street Sweetwater 79556

Dear Miss Corning:

Your recent letter addressed to Erastus Corning,

Erastus Corning I, (1794-1872), great-great grand-father of Mayor Corning, had a brother Alexander B. Corning, born 1796, who moved to Manchester, Michigan, in the early 1840's. Previously he had lived in LaFayette, Onondaga County, New York, 1833-34. This Alexander Corning had two sons, (at least), Alexander F. Corning and Benjamin Corning. We are safe in assuming, I think, that his middle name was Fayette.

Other brothers of Erastus Corning I, were Nathan, born 1788; Elisha, born 1790, Edwin, born 1798; Richard, born 1800; John Hamilton, born 1809. Sisters were Clarissa, Eliza, Hannah and Mary Ann.

Enclosed you will find xerox copies of sample letters written to Erastus Corning I, from both Alexanders, father and son. These letters are from the papers of Erastus Corning I, in the collections of the Albany Institute of History and Art.

We hope that this information will be of use to you.

Sincerely,

Kenneth H. MacFarland Librarian

Dear Uncle

It is with feelings of deep anxiety that I now address you. Father left home the 24th of Oct for the east,intending to visit you. We have not heard from him since, with the exception of learning by the by; that he arrived safe in Buffalo He was to send us papers if nothing more evry week & not a paper has reached us. It is with the intention of learning if he has been at your place that I write you. His business was to obtain funds for the completion of the church in this place I need scarcely add write immediately All well. A merry Christmass to cousins

your affectionate nephew Alexander F Corning

Manchester Jan 17th 1844

Dear Uncle

I received your letters of 5th & 8th and although I cannot divest myself of all anxiety I hope for the best. We are of the opinion that he has gone towards Philidelphia. Intending to call at Albany on his return The manner in which we heard from him in Buffalo was by Mr. Bower of this place Father was the bearer of money to the firm of Walbridge Haydon & Co Buffalo & Mr Bower recd a letter from them that the money was paid Oct 31st

He was likewise the bearer of money from William D Clark of Tecumseh to Owen Cotton Attica NY. I have written to Mr Clark he says he should not be likely to hear from Attica at all in refference to the business

Father might call on John C. Lord the Presbyterian minister in Buffalo

This is all that I can reccollect with regarding him all well

Your affectionate nephew Alexander F Corning

Manchester Feb 25th 1846

Dear Brother

As it is a long time since I have heard from any of my friends at the East, I have again taken the liberty of writing to you. It surely is a great gratification to me in the situation in which I now am to hear from my friends. I am a great part of the time confined to the house, on account of my health, I can perform no labour that requires any exercise of the body as the difficulty is in my left side and across the small of my back worse than the gravel — a great deal I have tried all the medicines and doctors I could find in these backwoods without any radical help and they all say that my case is beyond their reach I have not laid down on my bed a single night for six months past. what I shall, or can do more I know not. I feel almost entirely discouraged. I have wanted to place my family in somewhat more comfortable circumstances than they are but I must give that up. for I feel that I can do no more than what I have done unless I should soon regain my health. Aunte is a perfect child in every sense of the word she has to be taken care of as you would a child three months old. and it is a hard task for Harriet crippled as she is. Harriet is gone out this afternoon which is the third she has been from the House in two years. looking at things as they are I feel depressed to a degree that I never knew before, I have wanted to build a House but Providence has so ordered events in my family that I could not. Alexander is now at home but is calculating to go for himself in the spring which will leave none but Benjamin able to do much of anything and he had ought to go to school at least for a year. I have had a proposal to leave here and go to Springport in Jackson County to preach to a Church and Society there. but my health is not sufficient in the first place, and in the second there is so much uncertainty in these things that I am wholly unwilling to run the risk. I have thought should I when warm weather comes gain a measure of health again I should try to get some light employment that I could perform which would help towards supporting my family. Alexander has thought if we could sell here and all go to Barry County that we could there build us comfortable buildings and all live together. which if we could do we might in two years have a better farm than we have here and more improvement. we could then keep a flock of 4 or 500 sheep, and raise more wheat than we can now beside. these are his views and plans. what we shall do must depend upon my health and other circumstances I feel however that it would be the best thing we could do if it could be effected H is willing to go she wants to keep her children near her if she can and it is for the best. as for attempting to preach again to any people here at the west and thinking thereby to support my family it is all in vain I shall not. Ten years is enough for me. I think. will you write to me you know not how much good it does me once in a year or so to think and feel that I have some friends who take an interest in myself and family I feel that I am here all alone not a friend or a connexion near me. and as I sit up in my great chair during the long cold night I think on my family and on these things the tears flow and I cannot command my feelings, I say again do write to me. I will not trouble you often. and this may be the last. Give our love to H and all friends and may God avert from you and yours the trials which we are called to feel and may he bless with all good in Time and Eternity Your Brother Alex B Corning

Manchester March 9th 1846

Dear Uncle

As I am somewhat anxious about my future prospects in life & having been brought up in the Agricultural profession & consequently not qualified for another. I suppose that I must continue therein Thinking that you may have some land at the West that you wish to dispose of I take the liberty of requesting that you would send me some No. of the lots & terms. Aunt Harriet said to me last fall when I was in Albany that you would let me have land as you had any quantity I take this opportunity to thank you for the handsome present of the Fowling piece It shoots well & is in evry respect a good gun

Your nephew

Alex F Corning

P. S. Please write soon as the spring is already open & I am very impatient

PUBLISHING A FAMILY GENEALOGY

by Michal Martin Farmer

The purpose of this article is to encourage you to preserve your family research so that it won't be thrown away. You have all heard the story a dozen times. One of your cousins spent their entire life researching your family, but noone knows what became of their papers. It doesn't matter what the quality of the research was because one sentence could have saved you years of research. This same story will be told about you unless you organize your papers.

In the 1920's and 1930's there was a great awareness of family history; your relatives were beginning to have more leisure time. Thousands of children asked their parents to write a biography about themselves. These biographies are filled with personal things about your family that you could never find from any other source. Also, laddes all over the country were writing every relative they could find to establish a lineage for DAR. Many of these biographies and letters have been saved and they are in an old trunk or in the bottom of the cedar chest at the home of one of your cousins. Before you finish your genealogy it is your duty to find and include these treasures in your work.

With these family papers and all that can be found from the library and the courthouses and with your family photographs, tombstone inscriptions and church records you can write the most valuable family genealogy possible. You need all these sources or you have left things out. Also, if at all possible read the newspapers for the time period your ancestors lived in an area and read the county histories. Know the history of the area so you can include history too.

Self publishing is one of our most basic freedoms. America was built through self publishing, because there were no publishing houses until the 1800's. Thomas Paine's Common Sense was self published in 1776. He wrote, printed and sold it himself. 500,000 copies were sold here and abroad. Bartlett first sold his Familiar Quotations in 1855. By 1863 his book was opopular that Little, Brown & Co. begged him to affiliate with them. In 1867 Henry Robert approached every publishing house in the country and no one would publish his Rules of Order. He self published Robert's Rules of Order. It was later picked up by a publishing house and to date his book has sold over two million copies.

Genealogical publishing is unique to publishing in general. A small percentage of genealogical books make money and most don't break even in cost. Especially if you take into consideration your research expenses. Family history books are done to preserve family records.

Before you consider publishing the history of your family take a long hard look at what you have to offer. Is your material of value? If a history of your family has already been published ask yourself if you have enough additional original research and corrections of such value to make the book worthwhile.

Publishing the research about your family is the natural end result of all your hard work. Other than for your own satisfaction what was it all for? If you leave behind unorganized notes and boxes of papers under your bed there is a slim chance your work will ever be available to anyone who could benefit from your work. Many others will likely have to redo what you have accomplished. Boxes of papers are put in attics and forgottem; a book goes on a book shelf and becomes important.

If you have researched the family yourself and have old photographs and documents from original material you have the basis for a good family history. If you don't publish what is going to happen to your priceless mementos? Will a relative put the papers in the trash:

Family members won't care if sentences aren't perfect, punctuation exact, but they will care if you publish your research. Researchers of your family for generations to come will speak your name with reverence. You will be remembered as the one who wrote the book on the family. A family history is a perfect tribute to your family. Try to include all you know about the living members of your family. Years from now this data will be priceless. Try to include things you remember from your childhood about your relatives. Don't flaunt scandal but tactfully present facts that may be difficult for researchers to prove later. And, include addresses of living members so they can be located by researchers in the years to come.

The most important thing is don't include anything that hasn't been proven. If you include any family tradition say it is family tradition. Begin with your earliest proven ancestor. Don't be tempted to include his ancestors you aren't sure of. Don't include a family coat of arms unless you have documented it belonged to your ancestor. If you speculate that the father of your John Smith was James Smith and it is proven to be william Smith later your incorrect assumptions will taint your other research.

Document everything possible in your history. Include a locality with every date possible. If only the state is known include it. If somenone was born about 1799 and all data you have points to the fact he was born in Wilkes Co. GA don't say he was, say born probably in Wilkes Co. GA. unless you can document the fact. Give all the evidence and explain to your reader why you believe he was born in Wilkes Co. so it can be rechecked later.

Include as many charts, maps and photographs as possible. It makes your book more interesting and valuable. Your relatives will be happy to contribute their family pictures. The photos will make your book a cherished item. Offset printing is one of the best ways to preserve old photographs; they sometimes outlast expensive copies.

If you include anything in your book that didn't come from the original document then you took the information from someone else. It is only common courtesy to credit the source of each fact. Facts are useless unless your reader knows where the information came from. If the fact came from a letter from Aunt Sally say so. If it came from a book say which book. If you made a conclusion from a census say which census and page and then tell why you came to a certain conclusion. Footnote or list sources at the end of each paragraph or at the end of each chapter.

Of course, everything in your book can't be documented, but document everything you can. Add old letters and enough prose to make the book interesting. A book full of dates and places is a very dull book.

It would be very unlikely for two genealogists both publishing a book on the same family to come to all the same conclusions and use all identical sources. If you copy portions of your book from another book researchers will know. It is important that your book is your own unless footnoted and sources given. If you want to reprint and copyright an old genealogy with your corrections and the original book is still in copyright you can only own a copyright on your corrections and must also have permission from the author of the original book. Even if you reprint a book which was never copyrighted and is in the public domain you can't own a copyright unless you add original elements to the book. The additions made are yours, but you may not copyright the entire work. All of this is explained in the Mriter's Legal Guide. For everything you need to know about copyright write for a Copyright Kit available from the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

On the reverse side of your title page you will need to include the word copyright, the year and your name. Also include your Library of Congress Card Catalog number which has been preassigned per your request to the Library on Congress. An ISBN (International Standard Book) number can also be included on your copyright page.

New copyright laws became effective Jan. 1, 1978. These new laws make a copyright good for the author's life plus 50 years. You will need to mention the copyrights you own in your will. Consult the <a href="https://www.niresulfo.com/wills.com/wil

The size of your book is important. The most standard size is about 6" x 9". Books printed smaller or larger than this size usually cost about 30% more. The size and cover of your book is, of course, your choice. Don't consider publishing a family history without a full name index (every name index). You will be criticized if you don't index your book.

If you make money on your book you must pay income taxes. But, sales are offset by the expenses incurred in publishing and researching the book. An organization like the Dallas Genealogical Society may be non profit, but a family association may not be non profit. Keep records on how much you spend on printing, Xerox copies, stamps, research trips, etc. and deduct these expenses from the money made on sales. If you plan to publish begin now to log your expenses. If you are going to publish just one book you may want to consider paying your sales tax to the printer and selling your book for what it cost you so you won't have to collect sales tax.

If you wish to see your work in print, but don't want to bother with sales and printing there are several genealogical publishing houses that will publish your book at no cost to you and give you a small percentage of the profits. One of these places is Cook-McDowell.

You may organize your book any way you like, but the most acceptable way is the Registry System which is explained in the Illinois Quarterly. This system can be understood by your most misinformed relative. In each family there is a progenitor (earliest documented ancestor). He is generation I and he is number I. His children are generation 2 and his grandchildren are generation 3. Each person is identified with a generation number indicating his relationship to the progenitor. This number is raised about the typed line. If the progenitor is number I then his oldest child is number 2 and next oldest child is number 3 and so on. Each child is listed in columnar form preceded by small Roman numerals. An Arabic numeral is placed in front of the small Roman numeral for each child.

Most family histories are printed by offset process because typesetting is very expensive. The printer takes a picture of your typed book and it is printed exactly as it looks typed. Because of this a good typewriter with a carbon ribbon must be used. If you don't own a good typewriter or cannot type you may want to consider hiring someone to type your genealogy for the printer. To give your book a more professional look you may want to use press-type or transfer letters for your chapter titles, etc. These letters are easy to apply and can be purchased from office supply stores.

Every page in your book should be typed with exactly the same margins with your page numbers always being in the same place. You should talk to your printer about paper with blue guidelines on them. Don't make corrections on your camera ready copy unless you catch the error while the page is still in the typewriter. If you find the error later use the correction tage and retype the entire line.

If you are planning to use many photographs in your book you may want to consider copying them yourself. You will need a 35 millimeter camera and magnifying lenses. Consult a camera store for this information.

A most difficult part of publishing your own book is finding a good printer. Shop around carefully. Be sure to use a binding that will last. A softcover book can be handled by a local quick print, but a hard cover book should be done by a publishing company.

Begin now to collect current addresses for your relatives, because they are the major market for your book. Make a filer and send it to all of your relatives. Also, send your filer to as many libraries and genealogical societies as possible.

As soon as the books are published send two copies with your copyright notice to the Copyright Office. Also, send review copies to editors of genealogical societies which do good reviews and have large circulations. Send your flier to smaller genealogical societies and editors of newspaper columns concerning genealogy.

If you aren't going to publish you need to organize your material and discard or put in a separate place all research that doesn't directly relate to your family. Put the important material in a notebook or file and label it as important - do not discard. If possible type, Xerox and mail your genealogy to close relatives so it will be preserved. No one else will be able to compile your research like you can. Type and distribute your manuscript. You can't take it with you.

TURNBULL

Murroy P. MIDNIELL was a white missionawy to the Chestay Indians and was veferred to as Dr. THENBULL. Whether he was a doctor of medicine or Divinity was not known by any of the present living relatives. He was born April 6, 1816, of Scotch parentage, died December 2, larr. He was buried in the TURNBULL family cemetery. Mount Pleasant Community 9 miles east of what is now Caddo. Oklahoma. He was married about 1840 or 1841 to Jericho PERKINS, my orandmother, a full blood Choctaw Indian. She was born about 1826 on the Choctaw Indian grandmother, a rull blood Choctaw Indian. She was born about 1826 on the Choctaw Indian reservation in Mississippi. Records of births, marriages, etc., during the early Tribal Government were very sparse and in most instances non-existent. She died in 1893 and is also Government were Very sparse and in most instances non-existent. She died in 1893 and is also buried in the TURNSULF many cemetery. To this marriage was born cipit children, four boys Daniel 1846, Melvina 1849, Turner, Jr. 1851, Mary 1856, Julia (my mother) and Harriett, twins, 1860. The Treaty of Daniel ng Rabbit Creek was signed in 1830 between the Leaders of the Choctaw tribe and the Federal Government. This Treaty provided for the removal of the Choctaw from Mississippi to The Indian Territory and resettlement in The Choctaw Nation 211 this is a matter of recorded history and is only mentioned here because grandmother TURNBULL and her family were involved in this transfer of the Choctaws to the Indian Territory. The Choctaws ramily were involved in this transfer of the Chotcaws to the indian letters. The chotcaws Ships and many Indians died during the trip and because of the suffering and death of so many Indians this removal later became known as "The Trail of Tears".

Unlike the Plains Indians who were nomadic and warlike, the Indians who comprised The Pive Civilized Tribes were primarily agrarians who along with their hunting and fishing did some primitive farming. They raised small patches of corn, for bread, squash and other easy to produce vegetables adapted to their area. Naturally the women and children performed the major portion of the labor. They also lived in permanent homes, mostly small log cabins. This in part may have been the reason The Cherokees, Chickasaws, Choctaws, Creeks and Seminoles were known and referred to as The Five Civilized Tribes.

FLINCHUM

James S. W. FLINCHUM (white) was born December 22, 1858, in Fannin County, Texas. He died October 17, 1899, Gerty Community, Indian Territory, He was referred to as Jim FLINCHUM by his friends. He married Julia Ann TURNBULL July 27, 1879. She was a half-blood Choctaw and was born May 6, 1860 in the Mount Pleasant Community nine miles east of Caddo, Indian Territory. She died March 28, 1926. Both are buried in the Gerty, Oklahoma, community cemetery. To this union was born nine living children: William W. FLINCHUM, born May 10, 1880, married Ruby FOLEY 1901, separated, married Adelaide LEATHERS June 16, 1908, died January 17, 1953, buried Shawnee, Oklahoma. Fannie Jericho FLINCHUM, born September 15, 1881, married Rex LUND July 20, 1897, separated, married R. M. (Chess) WILSON September 16, 1900, died March 27, 1956, buried Ada, Oklahoma. Christopher C. FLINCHUM, born October 12, 1883, married Susie WYRICK 1902, died June 22, 1957, buried White Chapel Cemetery, Wichita, Kansas. 1915, still living.

Leroy and Ben FLINCHUM both were overseas in World War I. Leroy, being the older, was drafted first, attended Officers Training School and was commissioned a First Lieutenant and designed to a recombed of the time below a stated, bearing a some that the time below a first that the state below a stated, bearing the time below a local state to the time below a first time below a state of the time below a first time bel in any action.

Little is known of the early history of the FLINCHUM family. My father, James S. W. FLINCHUM was born in North Texas, reportedly in Fannin County. Grandfather Washington FLINCHUM died when my father was ten years old and grandmother Mary FLINCHUM remarried a man named Manuel SKAGGS and my information is that an uncle abducted father, took him to Georgia where they worked in a tobacco factory. This experience turned Father against tobacco and he never used it in any form. He was married to my mother Julia A. TURNBULL in Blue County, Indian Territory, on July 27, 1879. He had a half-brother, J. M. (Tobe) SKAGGS, who was living on our farm when father died in 1899. He also had an uncle, Jack FilmNeus, who with his wife Aunt Kate lived on our farm as tenants during the mid-1890's. They returned to Texas where Uncle Jack died in the late 90's and Aunt Kate returned and lived with our family until she died in 1905. Apparently the TURNBULLS were opposed to my mother's marriage to a white man and there was some ill feeling between Father and the TURNBULL brothers, so in the early winter of 1889, Father with some friends went looking for a place to establish a new home. He found a suitable place approximately 80 miles northwest in Tobucksy County, Indian Territory, 163 near the North side of the Choctaw Nation and purchased or traded for a claim from a part Indian, named Ed EEADER, in those days there were no transfers of real eatate by warranty deed in The Indian Party of the Chair Chai

The FLINCHUM Family arrived at their new home in February 1890. Traveling by covered wagon drawn by one team of horses, and by two yoke of oxen pulling a covered ox wagon. In wayon drawn by one team of noises, and by two yoke of oken putling a covered ox wayon. In those days oxen provided the majority of power in clearing and development of cultivable timbered lands. They were particularly useful in moving heavy loads of all kinds, dragging, loading and hauling logs and pulling out stamps and small trees. Father immediately began loading and nauling logs and pulling out stamps and small trees. Father immediately began improving the cabin, making it more comfortable by rechinking and doubling with much be space between the logs, clearing, plowing and fencing additional farm ground. Fences enclosing farm land were built of split rails made from post oak and red oak trees which at that time grew in abundance in the area. Soon he bought two point barbed wire (for one dollar per spool and hauled 35 miles) with which he built a half section pasture to hold saddle and work stock. Cattle grazed on open range for miles in all directions. Incidentally in those days of few conveniences and services, Father brought along when we moved a small blacksmithing outfit. an anvil, bellows and the other small tools necessary to repair normal farm and ranch equipment. As soon as the neighboring Indians learned of his skill at blacksmithing they named him "Tuli Roli", which in Choctaw means "blacksmith". Two years after we had settled in our new home, a part Indian, Jim LEADER, the son of the man from whom Dad had obtained our claim. settled 2k miles southwest of our place. He built a hewn double log cabin with two open fireplaces, one at each end, an open front porch full length, a breezeway between the two log rooms and two leanto rooms joining the two log rooms. This was rather a pretentious home for that time and area. He had six children, four boys and two girls, all our age and all of whom spoke English. Many Indian families in those days carried on their daily conversation in their native Choctaw language. The LEADERS were welcomed neighbors to visit with and provided playmates for us kids. As soon as Country Schools were available, which was about 1893. we went ot school, played and grew up together.

During the early 1890's, Pather was United States Deputy Marshal commissioned by the U.S. Commissioners Court of Paris, Texas, and later under jurisdiction of U.S. Commissioners Court of Mahlester, Indian Territory. He resigned about 1893 so that he might devote more time to the development of a cattle operation.

The the development was actual operations when the first consistency of the first consequent of the constraint of the collection of coal royalties paid the Government as agent for the Choctaws from coal companies for leases and mining of coal in the Choctaw Nation. Coal and certain other minerals were owned jointly by the Choctaw Tribe.

In the spring of 1895, with this money 8800 to 8900 all in cash, Father, with me and two older brothers took off for Arkansas on a cattle buying trip. We started with a good outfit, new wagon, sheet and bows, a built-in chuck box in the rear and pulled by a span of good mules and followed by four saddle horses. The first night after leaving home we camped on Coal Creek west of McAlester, Indian Territory. During the night a spring thunder storm developed and by morning the creek was running bank full. We swam the horses across, I riding the very best swimmer of the lot. During this process the mules, pulling the chuck wagon, had to be tied to a tree to keep them from pulling the wagon into the stream behind the horses. A dead log was tied to a front and back wheel on each side of the wagon to give it buoyancy, then the mules swam across pulling the wagon. After three days of travel during which we crossed the Poteau River by ferry, we arrived at the farm of Lawrence DAY in the vicinity of Black Fork Post Office, Polk County, Arkansas. We remained camped at the DAY farm during our entire stay in Arkansas. We immediately bought several head of cattle in the Black Fork Community, road branded them in the DAY Corral and my brother next older than me who was 12 years old and myself minded the cattle and horses, did our own cooking for a full week while Father and our oldest brother bought cattle in the surrounding counties of Yell, Scott and Montgomery. In two weeks we had bought slightly over 200 cattle of all ages and after getting them properly road branded we started our return home. Father hired a local boy, Sam CRABTREE, who had a good horse and saddle and we began our return trip home. We started the wagon out in front, and the cattle being mostly farm raised, followed the wagon as if they were accustomed to it. We had little or no trouble for the first three days but the third day we had crossed the state line and were back into The Indian Territory. There were some farms along the road and about the days end we were passing through a lane with a rail fence on either side so concluded the cattle could be held in this lane with little difficulty. We pitched camp, had our evening meal and prepared for a good nights rest. Dad, the chuck wagon and I were in the west end of the lane and the three boys in the east end. The boys were making their beds and in some way speeded pearby gattle and soon a full scale stampeds was in progress. Well in some way spooked nearby cattle and soon a full scale stampede was in progress. Well, naturally they came our way and Dad picked me up and put me in a fence corner where an old cow immediately jumped right over me. By nine o'clock the next morning we had them all rounded up and ready to take the road grain. We arrived home without any further difficulty. The return trip took about ten days. After a few days rest we began a pasture fence building oneration By this time Father had decided be would prepare for a good sized operation so operation. By this time rather had decided he would prepare for a good sized operation, so since the land was available, we put a barbed wire fence around an additional nine section area. This entire area was cently rolling upland with some open prairies interspersed with low garth onen timbered ridges and provided good grazing for livestock. He also had establow scrub open timbered ridges and provided good grazing for ilvestock. He also had estab-lished credit with banks at McAlester, Indian Territory, and continued to buy additional cattle, buy lumber, hire a carpenter and build a five bedroom frame dwelling. Cattle buving tring were made to Arkansas in 1896 and 1897. Chean Arkansas cattle did well in this part of the Indian Territory and a good profit was made on all cattle purchased there. In 1897 the troit on a partner R. P. DINN who had a considerable amount of personal money and also had ample gradit. By this time the Dock Teland railroad had built through Calvin Indian Tarritory, ten miles north so he began buying cattle all over and shipping them to Calvin, where they would be unloaded and driven to the ranch which by this time had grown into a sizable operation. Also by this time more people had come into the area, a post office had been operation. Also by this time more people had come into the area, a post office had been established at Guertie, Indian Territory, later to be called Raydon and now Gerty, Hughes County, Oklahoma. During the latter 90's talk had began about all the territorial lands heing county, Oklanoma. During the latter 90's talk had began about all the territorial lands one and for individual allotments for all Indians of the Choctaw Tribe and laws were being formulated to that end. So Father began talking about moving to New Mexico. His untimely death in October 1899 which resulted from his throwing a board that contained a rusty nail that scratched his hand when he threw it at a pig. Naturally after his death an administrator was appointed and when livestock were tallied there were 2170 cattle of all ares. 45 cow ponies and 30 head of mares and colts and the woods full of range hogs. That ended a promising and to that date, a profitable cattle operation. Mother retained the home place which she later allotted, was left a few hundred cattle, a sufficient number of work and other horse stock. some money and a house full of kids. But without leadership and good management our operation declined until an additional adjustment had to be made. Most of the children allotted joining or nearby lands, but section lines had to be opened so the big pasture had to come down. Therefore our type of operation was doomed. But as we grew up together we had fun except that some of us never did grow up.

Much of the information contained in this parrative was obtained from my mother and father and from personal experience. Mother was, however, the greater source of information concerning the early history of her family. Incidentally Indian children of that day had concerning the early history of her ramily. Incidentally indian children of that day had limited opportunities for an education. The Federal Government made arrangements with certain schools, colleges and universities to finance the cost of Indian children who wished to attend schools of higher education. My mother attended one such school for girls in Roanoke. Virginia. Other Indians of my acquaintance became Lawyers, Judges, etc. One became Assistant U. S. Indian Attorney during the administration of President Woodrow WILSON. Charles CARTER, a Chickasaw for whom Carter County, Oklahoma, is named and William STIGLER from Stigler, LeFlore County, Oklahoma, both were elected congressmen from their respective districts.

This information has been assembled by the undersigned for the benefit of the heirs of James S. W. PLINCHUM, and I hope it will provide them with some understanding of the hardships endured by early settlers in The Indian Territory.

EARLY DAYS IN THE CHOCTAW NATION OF THE INDIAN TERRITORY

In February of 1890 the Jim FLINCHUM family moved from the Mount Pleasant Community, nine miles east of Caddo, Blue County, Choctaw Nation, Indian Territory, to Tobucksey County Choctaw Nation, which is approximately 80 miles northwest. They settled on a claim previously obtained from a part Indian named Ed LEADER. This was a very remote area, sparsely settled where wild game, deer, wild turkey and even wild hogs were fairly plentiful. Occasionally, a panther was seen or heard and small gray timber wolves were a nuisance. The nearest toy of any size was McAlester, Indian Territory, 35 miles east on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. The claim consisted of a one room hewed log cabin, a dug well for household water, railroad. The claim consisted or a one room newed log cabin, a dug well for nousehold water, and ten to twelve acres of orchard and truck patch. The main artery of transportation was the Fort Smith, McAlester and Stonewall wagon road, which to this area, at that time, was comparable in a small way to The Oregon or Santa Fe Trails. The FLINCHUM claim was approximately 4 mile north from this wagon road which crossed the headwaters of a small stream locally called Salt Creek at the Flat Rock Crossing. A less known and less travelled road running north into The Creek Nation ten miles away and south to Coalgate Lehigh and Atoka crossed the McAlester Stonewall road at The Flat Rock Crossing. This crossing was known as a good place to camp overnight as wood and water was convenient and easily available. From our house east for a distance of one and one half miles was open prairie and travellers along this northeast to southwest road could be seen. One incident that I will always remember was the passing of a troop of U. S. Cavalry moving from Fort Gibson to Fort Sill. They were observed in ample time for us kids to rush down to the crossing on the nearby stream to watch them pass. The entire unit stopped and watered their horses as we sat on the stream bank in complete awe and curiosity. The cavalry men nearest spoke to us while watering their mounts assuring us that we wouldn't be harmed. For sometime thereafter the passing of the cavalry troop was the principal topic of conversation around our house. Also this McAlester road as we called it, was our means of reaching our grocery 35 miles away at McAlester, which at that time was the nearest general store, where anything from barbed wire to baking soda could be purchased. Dad would drive a wagon to McAlester twice annually, Spring and Fall, to buy groceries, etc. We would drive there in one day with an empty wagon, Stay overnight in the wagon yard and load up early next morning at W. J. WADE's general store. Our load home would generally consist of 400 to 500 pounds of flour, 100 pounds of sugar, 15 to 20 pounds of green coffee (which would be roasted later in the stove oven at home), and other small fond items. There would also be nails, staples, barbed wire, stock salt, smoking and chewing tobacco for the hired hands.

Horse stealing was the major crime in those days and rather common. One specific incident occurred in 1891. My Aunt Mary Mother's sister sent along a few head of come and a delding saddle horse when we moved from Blue County, and had also given me a small brown mare. The saddle horse was dark yellow with white mane and tail. He was a very pretty animal but otherwise not much of a cow horse or a smooth riding saddle horse. During the latter part of 1891 he was stolen one night along with my dad's saddle which had long hair coated saddle pockets attached to and a part of the rear of the saddle. Neither was ever recovered. A prelude to the stealing of this horse and saddle, however, was a gun fight between three horse thiover and H. S. Denuty Marchale The H. S. Marshals had been tipped off that horse thieves operating in the area had gotten together a small herd of stolen horses and were preparing to move out, so the marshals moved in. The thieves were overtaken at Lone Elm Spring, a water hole about 20 miles southwest of our ranch. A woman was driving the chuck wagen and three men were driving the horses. When the marshals ordered the men to surrender a gun fight ensued. The woman and two men were captured but the third man got away. During the gun fight, however, he was shot through the calf of the larg and the same shot killed hie heree a heavy tiful roan mare. He escaped to a man's place that we called a neighbor who lived 14 miles away tiful roam mare. He escaped to a man's place that we called a neighbor who lived is maked one from our ranch. The neighbor kept him hid out for a day or two then the two of them rode one horse to our ranch, there the neighbor let him off in a fence corner where he hid until night fall, he then stole our horse and saddle. Dad heard later by the grapevine what had happened and started checking and soon found a place in a rail fence corner where the grass had been mashed down and also found a letter than had evidently fallen from the nocket of the bore thief, addressed to Jack SPRADLIN. He was a known horse thief and robber nicknamed Dynamite Jack.

Another horse was stolen the next year under slightly different circumstances. Dad had just traded for a red roan, bald faced and stocking legged saddle gelding which he looked upon as his personal saddle horse, but a few days after acquiring him, the horse wrangler reported "Old Baldy" was missing from the saddle herd that morning. It soon became annarent reported of Baidy was missing from the saddie herd that morning. It soon became apparent what had happened, the pasture fence had been laid down and "Old Baldy" had been led out into the road and the thief's saddle placed on him, he then left his own wornout "crow bait" of a horse that was too tired to move out of his tracks. When this was reported to Dad, he immeddately caught and saddled one of our best horses, a big dark iron gray, with a smooth rolling his oun belt and picked up his 38 Winchester, he took off in a cloud of dust. Late in the afternoon a short distance east of Stonewall. Indian Territory, where there was a U.S. Deputy Marshal's office and U. S. Commissioners Court, he overtook a covered wagon followed by a young lady driving a two-wheeled cart. At the same time he observed the horse thief riding Baldy a short distance shead of the covered wagon. In sizing up the situation be felt that his horse had been pushed hard and was becoming pretty weary, so he made a deal with the woman driving the cart to drive around her folks in the wagon and pass the horse thief whom he surmised she wouldn't spook, and carry a note to the U. S. Marshal's office in Stonewall. Well, it worked out all right, she delivered the note and two U. S. Marshal's jumped into a buckboard, one carrying a double barrelled 12 gauge shotgun, the other his pistol. They soon met the horse thief and recognized him from the description in the note, they stepped out of their buckboard and ordered him to surrender. He started to go for his own gun but when the marshal with the shotqun pointed it at him with both barrels cocked he surrendered, meekly saying, "I wasn't too afraid of that pistol, but looking down that shotgun barrel I couldn't see anything but a gravevard and a tombstone.

Living adjacent to a well-travelled road had its drawbacks. During the first eight years we had five horses and seven saddles stolen, the last two on March 25, 1988. The reason I remember this so well is because one of the two was my own personal saddle pony, a small black the third of the same and the same that the same that the cher was a dum quarter horse with a black mane and tail. He was a real fast cow horse that we sometimes raced in the community and I'm sure that he was the principal object of the thieves. Neither was ever recovered. We finally built a saddle house which was locked every night pasture and we always picked one that was spooky and hard to catch.

On the other hand an advantage of living near a well-travelled public road in the early days was that it provided an opportunity of obtaining news as there were no newspapers available and it also provided an opportunity to meet and socialize with the travellers and to meet people looking for new farm land for lease or rent where they might stop and rest for a year or two or to settle down for good. We were fortunate in obtaining hired help and also in a period of two or three years Father talked to several men with families who appeared to be honest bonafide farmers with good experience who wished to settle on land under our control. All our land was virgin soil which had to be cleared and put into cultivation. The usual verbal agreement was that Father would assign them a tract of tillable land, boundaries of which would be indicated by a mark on a tree called a blaze or by stakes, build them a log cabin, a log crib and shed attached and dig a well for household water. They would agree to clear the land, breakout the virgin soil, plant and cultivate the crop but not pay any rent the first year. Any other virgin land to be handled under the same verbal agreement and that a specific crop rent was to be paid on all farmed land the second year. In this manner we accumulated a sizeable acreage of cultivated farm land. At that time all farm land had to be fenced with split rails as hogs fed on the open range and crops had to be protected by hog proof fences. In the next year or two we obtained two or three more tenants and each time a new tenant was obtained more farm ground was added and the field fences had to be extended. Soon there were around 500 acres in one big field. This, however, was not all farmed as there were three small streams running through the field.

In the meantime the entire Indian Territory was being surveyed and sectionized by U. S. Geological Surveyors who camped at our ranch for two full weeks while working in our area. Townsites were set aside for small rural towns and soon a small town and community began to take shape three miles southwest from our place. It was called "Buzard Flop" by a local jokester, later to be named Guertie, still later Raydon and now Gerty, Buyhes County, Oklahoma. One of the first businesses to be put into operation was a saw mill, then in rapid succession a post office, a one room school house, several small dwellings, two general stores, two drug cotton press, all built from native hardwood lumber. At that time plenty of post rook and red oak saw timber was available in the immediate community. One of the two general stores built by C. Y. SEMPLE in 1897 still stands and up until 1975 was used as a store and living quarters.

One in particular relating to one of our tenant's families named NICHENSON. There were two brothers coldest of which was named Molly. He also had a hired hand named Tom SEANS. Well, Tom and Molly fell in love and wanted to get married, but the only place a marriage license could be obtained was at McAlester, which was 35 miles away. Tom didn't own a horse and few if any of the tenants owned a riding horse, so Tom valked the 35 miles, obtained a marriage license, then walked back home. My brother next older than me rode along for company (and, I assumed, let Tom ride some) reported that Tom whisted and sam all the way to McAlester and back.

they are good solid citizens and a credit to any community.

Toward the end of the century Certy became a good small inland town where most community needs for groceries, etc., could be obtained from local stores. In 1895 the Choctaw Oklahoma and Gulf Raliroad, now the Rock Island, built into Calvin twelve miles north and from stores. With the coming of the raliroad, the sectionizing of the entire Indian Territory, more and more settlers were arriving looking for new homes and land to farm. Most of the Finchium Claim have past on but I hope this brief history will provide the present FIINCHUM generation with a small insight into the privitation and hardmine endured by the early settlers in the settlement and development of that part of the Indian Territory in which we lived.

Now a word about the Author. When Father died in 1899, Mother was left with eight kids, five boys and three girls and one daughter unborn. She began a program of trying to get some sort of an education for all of us. So she started sending all those of school age to some subsidized boarding school. After a couple of boarding schools, I wound up at The Old Presbyment of the school graduation of the school age to some subsidized boarding schools, I wound up at The Old Presbyment of the school graduation school school age to school graduation with a school graduation of the school graduat

I went back the next year, had a good year scholastically and an excellent year in football. During that time also I had three friends whom I had gone to school with before, playing football for Texas A & M college. When my freshman year had ended I began to hear from my friends, Choc KELLY, Jim ROSS and decorpe MARION, all part Indians, wanting me to come to Texas A & M. Soon I heard from the Student Captain for 1907-08, Joe UTAY, who also asked me to consider entering A & M the coming achool year. In those days Galveston, Texas, was one of the fam spots in the U.S. A and many of the railroad state. In early September of 1907, one such excursion was promoted by The Missouri-Kanassa and Texas Railroad, statring perhaps in St. Louis and then from Dallas on The Houston and Texas Central Railroad to Galveston. Well, it looked to me like a good chance for me to have a short visit with my friends at College Station and see Galveston also as the H and T-C passed through College Station. So I wrote my friends that I was going to Galveston on this excursion and that the train was scheduled to pass through College Station at a certain time and that I would like to see them. School hadn't opened yet but the football squad had reported for pre-season practice, so when my train arrived in College Station, Joe UTAY, my friends and several other members of the squad were on hand to meet me. The train had barely stopped when two or three of them came aboard looking for me and when they found me we all stepped down from the train to visit with others of the group on the platform. Unknown to me however someone picked up my "satchel" which contained all my wordly clothing possessions and when the train left I was held there but not wholly against my will. Well, I had about $1.98 in my pocket and 1/2 of a round trip ticket from McAlester, Indian Terrtiroy, to Galveston, Texas, and return. And that is "how come" I entered Texas A & M College.

The next day I registered and at my request was assigned to the Mechanical Engineering Class. When I registered I reported that I was without funds and would have to work my way through school. I was sent down to the barn, reported for work, and was assigned to the corn schucking crew. That wasn't so bad as at least I had shucked a lot of corn. In the meantime the football coach asked me if I would like to try out for football. Naturally I accepted as I would rather play football than to shuck corn. After three or four days the coach suggested to those in authority that shucking corn was interfering with my football practice and of the two, practice was more important. So from then on it was all down hill and since my $1.98 was exhausted. I just had to make the football team and by persistence and hard work, I made starting fullback,

During the past year I visited with Joe UTAY and he informed me that he and I were the only living members of the 1907 team. Choc KELLY also went to Texas A & M during that era and was one of the all time great quarterbacks of A & M history. He was reported in "Ripleys Believe It or Not" to have returned a kick-off 105 yeards for a touchdown, and in those days that was a record.

During my last year, which was the Fall of 1910. I had the honor of being President of the Thanksgiving Ball which was a great honor to an underclassman and the only way that I could have achieved this honor was from the support of the many good friends I had throughout the entire student body. I never graduated from A & M. I thought it more important to get married. The spirit of loyalty is a tradition to graduates and former students of Texas A & M and a spirit of brotherhood prevails among all who had the privilege of being a member of its student body.

Well, that's my story except that during my football days at Texas A & M we lost one game and tied one against Texas University in 1907, and lost to Arkansas in 1910. Also in those days we played on both offense and defense and ordinarily carried a few substitutes, perhaps eight or ten extra men on trips. My college record can be verified from the files of Texas A & M University. I hope that my relatives and any students of Texas A & M University can confirm some of the things mentioned in this narrative.

In writing this narrative I've gone into detail in describing animals, equipment, etc., as many of the same things we use in these later days are referred to in different terms.

CZECH ANCESTRY

The following letter was received by the Editor and will be of interest to our members and readers who are researching Czech ancestry.

The Editor Local History and Genealogical Society Quarterly 8446 Santa Clara Drive Dallas, Texas 75218

Sir.

Having just read F. W. Helmbold's "Tracing Your Ancestry", Birmingham, Al., 1977, I found there i. a. the address of your Society and that of its Quarterly. As I have done genealogical research in this country for several years not only for my own family, I think I could be helpful to members of your Society and to readers of the Quarterly. I could imagine that in their research some of them have reached an ancestor who immigrated from Bohemia, Moravia or the Upper Parts/northern counties/of the former Kingdom of Hungary/Slovakia since 1918/ and would go deeper in this part of their family history. To my knowledge many families of Czech origin settled down in Texas in the 19th century. I therefore presume that there might be genealogists in your region who would consider my cooperation useful. As a Mamber of the Societas Genealogica ac Heraldice Pragae I have access to parochial records and I can compile ancestral charts and family group records based on verified extracts from these records.

May I ask you to inform your readers about my offer in the next issue of your Quarterly. I would also appreciate your confirmation of receipt of this letter. Please feel free to write if you think that I should furnish further informations concerning my proposition.

Sincerely yours

Z. G. Alexy

During a recent trip to am antique shop in the area of Waxahachie, Texas, I obtained a copy of the Discipline of the Methodist Church, adopted in 1900, printed in 1902. Inside this book, I found an article clipped from a newspaper, no date, no specific newspaper name. no other information except as follows:

Buried at Grandview.

A man named Ford who died some two and a half miles northeast of Cleburne Sunday was buried at Grandview Monday under the auspices of Cleburne and Grandview Monday under the auspices of Cleburne and Grandview Odd Fellows. Ford was not a member of either lodge, but of the lodge at Bellevue, Montague County, from which place he came some time ago.

If anyone is interested in this clipping, if it can provide or help provide a "link in your chain", please feel free to call me or contact me.

The body of almost every organization has four kinds of bones: the WISHBONES who spend all the time wishing some one else would do the work; the JAWBONES who do all the talking, but very little else; the KNOCKERBONES who knock everything that anybody else tries to do; and the BACKBONES who get under the load and do the work. Which kind of bones do you have?

BOOK REVIEW EDITOR: Pat Schrader

JUDGES OF THE REPUBLIC OF TEXAS, 1836-1846.
Hardbound, 65 x 9 x 9 y, 350 pages, available from Dr. Joe E. Ericson, Stephen F. Austin University, Nacogdoches, Texas 75962.

Judges of the Republic of Texas, 1836-1846, was published for the researcher who suspects that his ancestor participated in any level of the judicial system of the Republic of Texas - from Justice of the Peace in a remote county to Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The Preface indicates that Dr. Ericson was thorough in his quest for information about the judges. He had surveyed earlier publications and discovered that most of the 1500 judges who served from 1836 to 1846 had been ignored, so his search began with the Executive Record Book at the Archives in Austin, and culminated with correspondence to county clerks and county historical commissions. There is not only biographical material here, but the Introduction includes the judicial duties at each level, salaries of judges, and an explanation of the varied occupations that the judges held within their communities.

The actual text, which begins on page 17, gives a sketch of each judge with biographical information which often includes his wife's maiden name, her birth place, and her father's name. This is followed by the names of the judge's children, their birth dates, spouses, and the source of the information.

The book is indexed, and the Appendix (a list of the judges by district and county), and five pages of Bibliography complete it. It is a beautiful hardbound volume with the judges' names set in heavy type, and the biographical sketches set apart by wide margins. Easy to use.

STORIES BY ROBERT W. BROWN, A COUNTRY LAWYER.

Compiled and edited by Rhonda F. Mohler, softbound, 6" x 9", 85 pages, $7.50. Available from Rhonda F. Mohler, Coryell County Genealogical Society, 811 Main, Gatesville, Texas 76528.

Texas researchers, here is a neat little book. Not only will it appeal to the Texas history buffs, but parts of it contain useful information for researchers. It gives the manner in which the land surveys received their names, and also defines the phrases: Donation Warranty, Bounty Warranty, Pre-emption, and other bits of vocabulary found in deeds. Undoubtedly, Robert W. Brown really meant to entertain rather than instruct when he originally told these stories, for there are some home-spun, historical tales, - but there are also some solid tales with a moral punch. All are true, and many give the names of the people, living and dead, from Coryell County and the surrounding area. There is an Index, a Table of Contents, and some photographs, but all are paled by the stories.

Editor Rhonda F. Mohler had two purposes in writing this book: first, it was a tribute to Robert W. Brown, a country lawyer; and second, it was to give the reader a glimpse of the past. She succeeded in both KNOWN MARRIAGES OF FANNIN COUNTY, TEXAS, 1838-1852 - A RECONSTRUCTED LISTING OF LOST MARRIAGE RECORDS.

Compiled by Patricia Armstrong Newhouse, 84" x 11", 17 pages, softbound. Published by Fannin County Historical Commission, Bonham, Texas 75446.

Because the First Marriage Book of Fannin County is missing, the marriages in this book are taken from the "returns" and also from an old day book kept by the county clerk. The information consists of the names of the bride and the groom and the marriage dates. The marriages are listed alphabetically by grooms' surnames. The author has been exacting in her interpretation of the old handwriting and has made notations if the name is a variation. She has also included "a word of explanation" about the book, about the names, dates, and the original licenses. Well worth the reader's time to peruse.

THE FAMILY OF JOHN MASSIE, 1743-c.1830: REVOLUTIONARY PATRIOT FROM LOUISA COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

Softbound, $35.00, hardbound, $40.00, 8½" x 11", 241 pages, large print. Order from M. P. Kelsey, M. D., #2 Longbow Lane, Houston, Texas 77024.

The Family of John Massie has a format that is easy to follow. The first part, pages 1 through 144, deals with the Massie family; and the second part, pages 145 through 179, deals with "Other Families" (Bachman, Bollinger, Keener, Jackson, Mills, Burrus, Booth, Clopton, Baker, Walton, Harris and Overton). The third part contains the sources of information. The last part, consisting of 25 pages, is the Index.

It is a readable book with details like, "... it was at an ice cream supper in ... that he met his second wife ...", and the author was careful to separate fact from fiction with phrases like, "... Martha was probably the daughter of ...". The author has succeeded in tracing the descendants of John Massie, with much of the information concerning people born after 1900, and some lines traced to 1978.

From the Springfield Republican, (Springfield, Massachusetts), Saturday, 12 July 1845, page 2, first part of the editorial.

ANNEXATION CONSUMMATED

Texas is annexed. The last hope of the sincere opponent of annexation, that she might prefer independence, is now taken away. She has shown herself but too willing to link her destiny with ours. We have joined bonds, and taken Texas to our bosom "for better or for worse". Heaven grant that it may be the former, though the scheme was founded in iniquity and consummated in disgrace . . .

This news had arrived via the U. S. frigate, Princeton, which arrived at Annapolis on 3 July, after having sailed directly from Galveston on 23 June (9 days).
