Paul Milner

A DGS HYBRID SEMINAR — OCT. 22nd, 2022

We can't all travel to the British Isles to research our family but there is an alternative. DGS is sponsoring a day of lectures featuring Paul Milner, a specialist in British Isles research. Learn how to be effective in your British online research and add to your family tree, travel-free. Paul will cover the major British research websites, including those which are fee-based and free access.

Welcome! • 9:55 - 10:00 am (Central Daylight Time)

Session 1 • 10:00 - 11:15 am ~ Are you Lost? Using Maps, Gazetteers and Directories for British Research Learn what maps, gazetteers and directories are available for researching your ancestors in Great Britain (England, Scotland and Wales). Learn from examples how to make good use of these tools to find where your ancestors are, what they did, when, where, and why they may have moved.

Session 2 • 11:30 - 12:45 pm ~ Effective Use of England's National Archives Website Learn how to effectively use the research tools, indexes and catalogs on this large website to find your ancestors and to put them into their correct historical context.

Session 3 • 1:45 - 3:00 pm ~ Effective Use of GENUKI: England's Largest Free Genealogy Website Learn how to effectively use the largest free website for British Isles research. Understand how the site is organized and to find its many resources tools on the site. Plus see how to find its gems for specific local research.

Join us virtually or in-person for this great seminar!

Session 4 • 3:15 - 4:30 pm ~ Using FindMyPast for British Isles Research FindMyPast is the premiere commercial genealogical website for British Isles research. Learn what is on the site, and the navigational options to find what you need. Identify the free instructional materials that are available to you, with case studies. Learn what is unique here, and what may be found on other sites.

How Our Hybrid Seminar Works:

- Register by mail or go to the Fall Seminar link at dallasgenealogy.org. When registering, you will choose whether your attendance will be In-Person (at the Dallas Central Library) or Live-Streamed (via Zoom).
- Prior to the event you will be contacted to verify how you want to participate (in-person or online). At that time, In-Person participants will also be able to designate their lunch meal choice from a menu of three sandwiches or two salads. Attendees are welcome to bring their own lunch.
- A few days before the seminar you will receive an email with a link to the syllabus, and a link for joining the seminar (online) on the day of the event.
- Recordings will be made of each seminar session and will be available to registrants for two weeks after the seminar.

Paul Milner, a native of northern England, is a professional genealogist and internationally known lecturer with 30 years experience in British Isles research.

*Here's the backstory about Paul: **

Paul was raised on the West Coast of northern England. A mining engineer with a degree from the Camborne School of Mines in Cornwall, England, he came to the U.S. in 1975 to get his graduate degree at the University of Wisconsin. He has been in the U.S. ever since, and in 2008 he became a dual citizen of both countries. In the intervening years, Paul received two graduate degrees and traveled widely throughout the world.

Paul has been designing genealogy workshops, writing books, and lecturing for over 35 years. He holds an advanced degree in Theology and is particularly knowledgeable about the church and its role in record keeping. As a genealogist he speaks on a variety of topics relating to research in the British Isles, migration to North America and research methodology.

He is the 2018 recipient of the Utah Genealogical Society Fellow Award.

He is currently the book review editor of the British Interest Group of Wisconsin and Illinois Newsletter (BIGWILL) and is the former book review editor of the FGS FORUM.

Paul is a past board member of the Association of Professional Genealogists, the Federation of Genealogical Societies, the Genealogical Speakers Guild, and the British Interest Group of Wisconsin and Illinois.
